IN BOSTON MARKETS.

Improvement in Butter Continues as Formerly.

Boston, Nov. 13.—The improvement recently noted in the local butter market continues. Receivers now find little difficulty in moving their consignments and in the lack of a surplus, as well as in response to higher prices at outside markets, there is a slight disposition to hold goods for a slight advance over recent quotations. Fancy creamery, both fresh made and storage, ranges up to 27 1/2c, or about 1/2c above Saturday's level. Cheese continues dull and rather weak, but there is a strong market for eggs, particularly choice fresh ones.

190 CHICAGO SALOONS PUT OUT OF BUSINESS; ONE MILE DRY.

Prohibition on Main Line and Will Sweep the Country Says Enthusiast.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—One hundred and 99 saloons were voted out of business at the election, according to the correct returns compiled yesterday, by Ernest A. Scroggin, attorney for the anti-saloon league.

"Of the 500 precincts which voted on the question," said Scroggin, "140 voted against license, while but 20 voted for license. There were 200 saloons existing in these precincts and 190 were effaced from the map by the ballots cast by the voters."

"The prohibition party certainly has cause to feel joyful. We are on the main line now and will sweep the country at the forthcoming election."

The prohibition question bobbed up locally in the Chicago city council last night when the aldermen by a vote of 40 to 28, passed an ordinance making a section a mile square "dry." It is located in the southwestern part of the city.

The saloon element made a hard fight to thwart the measure, but their work was unavailing. An ordinance for another prohibition tract in the northern part of the city was put over for another week.

More than half of the area of Chicago is now "dry."

ONE WHISKEY SURRENDERS.

The Wilson Brand Will Now Be Called "Compound."

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—The first break in the solid front which the whiskey rectifiers have been presenting in opposition to the attorney-general's interpretation of that portion of the pure food law which applies to whiskies, was made yesterday by announcement of submission by the Wilson Distilling company of Baltimore. That company, one of the largest rectifiers and manufacturers of so-called "blended whiskies," announces it will no longer use the word "blend" in its label on its mixtures, but will henceforth say a "compound of straight whiskey with other grain distillates, that's all." It is predicted here that the other rectifiers will follow this example, and the cases against a large number of them which the department of justice had in preparation will be dropped. If so, there will be an amicable end to a stern contention, and a probably long drawn out legal fight. Since, however, it is said that nearly every retail whiskey dealer in the United States, as well as all the rectifiers have been violating the law as interpreted by the board of food and drug inspection and the attorney-general, there can be no definite promise of an end to the proposed litigation.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

"The Heart of Maryland."

One of the brightest and most successful of the great enduring plays based upon the realities and romanticism of American life is David Belasco's "The Heart of Maryland," which will be the attraction at the opera house this evening. It is a dramatic epic which tells the story of woman's love and self-sacrificing devotion and her undaunted heroism, battling her way to the triumphant finale in the effort to save her lover from the disgrace of being executed.

ed as a spy. In this picture of love and war, she is the central figure amid a score of strong and realistic typical characters and accentuated by the romanticism which will ever glorify the history and traditions of our old colonial times. Interpreted by a company of clever players, rehearsed by the author, Mr. Belasco, and illustrated and beautified by the most picturesque and realistic of scenic settings, "The Heart of Maryland" should, as it undoubtedly will, be welcomed by a large and most appreciative audience.

The large audience which greeted La Barre Bros' minstrels in the opera house last evening afforded conclusive evidence that despite the popular preference for other lines of amusement a really good minstrel troupe can still get the money.

La Barre Bros' troupe is not a very large one and does not rely on elaborate staging for its effects, but it does up a first class article of clean, refined minstrelsy and as such is deserving of good patronage.

The performance opened with the usual circle which was unusual in its quality. The songs, some of which were new were well rendered and the four endmen kept the audience in hearty laughter. The job done well told and were refreshingly free from suggestiveness or vulgarity.

In the olio the first number was Ackerman, hand balancer and equilibrist who contributed an excellent turn. Tommy Hayes, bone soloist took the house by storm, with one of the neatest acts of the kind ever seen here. George Foster's singing and dancing comedians furnished much amusement. Coderi and Mack sang and dance duo did some exceptionally good wooden shoe dancing. Joe Sindig sang character songs well and Carena and Delia showed much ability as club swingers and hoop jugglers.

But probably the most artistic act on the programme was that of Platte, billed as "The Violet Girl"—Platte is not a girl but he kept the audience guessing and provided a very clever, female impersonation turn. Altogether the performance is an exceptionally good one and had Mr. La Barre's dates permitted would have easily drawn another large audience tonight.—St. John, N. B. Times.

At the Barre opera house Saturday evening, November 16.

KING'S DOCTOR

FOR THE KAISER.

Famous Throat Specialist Calls on Emperor at Windsor Castle.

Windsor, England, Nov. 13.—Prof. Sir Felix Semon physician extraordinary to King Edward, and a noted throat specialist, was a visitor at the castle yesterday. Those in the entourage of Emperor William say he called solely to see his old friend Dr. Hilberg, the physician, with whom, after a brief stay at the castle, he went to inspect the king's sanatorium at Frognor.

It is regarded as hardly conceivable, however, that a specialist of the prominence of Prof. Semon, knowing the surprise his visit under the circumstances would be bound to give rise to, would have ventured to the castle unless for the purpose of a consultation regarding the emperor's throat trouble.

In any event his majesty's convalescence appears to be uninterrupted. This morning he showed no signs of fatigue after his journey.

$20,000 for Loss of Sight.

New York, Nov. 13.—A man's eyes are valued at $20,000, according to a verdict rendered by a jury in the Supreme court at Flushing yesterday in the suit of John L. Muller against the General Chemical company.

Muller, while in the employ of the chemical company, lost the sight of both eyes through an accident. He sued for $75,000.
